You “can’t beat the original” assure admirers of this “classic” Midtowner, the oldest in local restaurateur Randy Paragary’s empire, serving a “varied” menu of “lighter, Californian-style” French-Italian fare; revered for its “creative”, “upscale pizzas” baked in a wood-burning oven, it’s also well known for “top-notch” service and an “inviting”, “relaxing” back patio featuring olive trees and waterfalls (“like being in a Tuscan courtyard!”).
